HARDING SUPPORTED IN SIGNED STATEMENT BY PROMINENT MEN

Leaders Give Reasons for Endorsing Republican Stand on League of Nations--Revision Necessary to Make World Peace Possible.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A statement explaining the positions in the presidential campaign of 31 prominent men who have advocated some form of international agreement was issued over their signatures here tonight and announced they would support Senator Harding, the Republican nominee.

Elihu Root, Herbert Hoover, George W. Wickersham, Henry L. Stimson, A. Lawrence Lowell, Henry W. Taft, and Charles E. Hughes were among the signers of the statement, which follows, in part:

"The undersigned who desire that the United States shall do her full part in association with the other civilized nations, to prevent war, have earnestly considered how we may contribute most effectively to that end, by our vote in the coming election.

Differences Outlined.

"The question between the candidates is not whether our country shall join in such an association. It is whether we shall join under an agreement containing the exact provision negotiated by President Wilson at Paris or under an agreement which omits or modifies some of those provisions which are very objectionable to great numbers of the American people.

"The paper signed by thirty eight Republican senators in March, 1919, before the league covenant was adopted at Paris, advised the president that the signers could not approve a treaty in the form then proposed although it was 'their sincere desire that the nations of the world should unite to promote peace and general disarmament.'

"A majority of the senate voted to ratify the league agreement with modifications which there is good evidence to show would have been accepted by the other nations. But Mr. Wilson refused to accept these modifications, and insisted upon the agreement absolutely unchanged and Democratic senators sufficient in number to defeat the treaty as modified followed Mr. Wilson by voting against ratification.

"That is substantially the difference between the parties now. The Democratic platform and candidate stand unqualifiedly for the agreement negotiated at Paris without substantiative modification.

The Harding Statement.

"Mr. Harding said in his speech of August 28th:

"'There are distinctly two types of international relationship. One is an offensive and defensive alliance of great powers. * * * The other type is a society of free nations animated by considerations of right and justice instead of might and self-interest and not merely proclaimed an agency in pursuit of peace, but so organized and so participated in as to make the actual attainment of peace a reasonble possibility. Such an association I favor with all my heart and I would make no fine distinction as to whom credit is due. One need not care what it is called. Let it be an association, a society or a league, or what not. One concern is solely with the substance, not the form thereof.'

"Mr. Harding has since repeatedly reaffirmed the declarations of this speech, in the most positive terms.

"The question, accordingly, is not between a league and no league, but is whether certain provisions in the proposed league agreement shall be accepted or shall be changed.

"The contest is not about the principle of a league of nations, but it is about the method of most effectively applying that principle to preserve peace.

"We have reached the conclusion that the true course to bring America into an effective league to preserve peace is not by insisting with Mr. Cox upon the acceptance of such a provision as Article Ten thus prolonging the unfortunate situation created by Mr. Wilson's insistence upon that article; but by frankly calling upon the other nations to agree in the proposed agreement which will obviate this vital objection and other objections less the subject of dispute.

"We therefore believe that we can most effectively advance the cause of international cooperation to promote peace by supporting Mr. Harding for election to the presidency."

Prominent Endorsers.

The statement bore the following signatures:

Lyman Abbot, Robert S. Brookings, president of Washington University, St. Louis; Nicholas Murray Butler, Paul D. Cravath, Charles W. Dabney, University of Cincinnati; William H. Senator E. D. Smih of South Carolina and other speakers for the delegates in urging restoration of the finance corporation, declared in favor of extending credit to Germany.

Later the delegation carried out its plan of asking a preferential rediscount rate on agricultural papers at a hearing before the full members of the federal reserve board. They characterize the situation facing the producers due to the falling market as "alarming" and insisted that one of the main purposes of the federal reserve law was to furnish elasticity of currency for the agricultural interests in such

"I ask one specific thing,' Senator Smith who was again the spokesmen said in summing up the case for the producers. Decreased transportation of building materials together with increased cost of transportation under govenement management of the railroads was a large factor in causing the acute housing situation thruout the country, he declared.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR SUSPECTS IN BIG WHISKEY DEAL

Investigate Plot to Flood Country With Contraband Liquor

ALLEGED GO-BETWEEN TAKEN BY POLICE

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Arrest today of Charles Schillinged, alleged go-between and the request for three John Doe warrants for suspected revenue agents involved in whiskey ring operations today were followed by appearance of Walter Sadler, a former New York stock broker, before a federal grand jury investigating an alleged plot to flood the country with contraband whiskey. Announcement was made that Sadler would later return to Chicago to give further testimony.

Court attaches said that Sadler told the jury something of his dealings with a distiller at Louisville, from which whiskey was said to have been shipped.

Seizure of this liquor preceded Sadler's confession that a $1,000,000 "whiskey ring" had sought to distribute liquor thruout the country. Sadler was accompanied to the federal building by two United States deputy marshals who have been with him since Wednesday when he told authorities he had received a threat against his life.

Schillinger, whose arrest followed complaint by Andrew Pappas, proprietor of an inn, that he paid Schillinger $12,000 for whiskey but received only part of the amount bargained for, is thought by the police to have obtained $100,000 from saloon keepers to whom he failed to deliver liquor as ordered.

Further release of liquor from bonded warehouses in Illinois was temporarily suspended today by R. W. Stone, state prohibition director.

While Sadler was testifying before the grand jury at the instance of F. D. Richardson, revenue bureau investigator, District Attorney Clyne announced that he had obtained evidence tending to show that Sadler's story could not be verified. Sadler in his confession, had implicated politicians, government employes and liquor dealers in the whiskey ring. Sadler appeared before the grand jury after Mr. Clyne had announced that he would not do so.

BANKER PRAISES U. S. SYSTEM TERMING IT THE BEST ONE OF ALL

George E. Roberts Takes Confident View of Business Situation

COUNTS PANICS AS THINGS OF PAST

ROCKHILL, S. C., Oct. 14—The United States has one of the best banking systems in the world, and "under it I never expect to see another panic," George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York declared here tonight in an address before a gathering of business men in which he analyzed the credit situation.

"I don't think we are going to have either an industrial collaspe or a panic," he added, "and it will be because we have a good banking system and because bankers have followed an intelligent policy in regard to credits."

Mr. Roberts said that the present situation is due to the aggregate demand for credit by all the industries and all the lines of business beyond the ability of the banking system to supply.

Such conditions, he added, result from "the war," from the waste of capitol and expansion of credit during war."

The restriction of credit is not responsible for the decline of wheat and cotton," the speaker asserted. "The poverty of the world, the low buying power of Europe and the high exchange rates are the principal factors in the break in these prices."

WILSON'S POLICIES UNDER RAPID FIRE FROM HARDING

Says Administration Has Interfered with Commerce

MEXICAN POLICY HAS BROUGHT DISTRUST

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 14.—The administration's attitude taward foreign trade, the Wilson policy in Mexico and the league covenant written at Versailles were the special objectives of Senator Harding's assaults on the Democratic lines in his campaigning today and tonight thru the borderland of the solid sauth.

Charging that "secret diplomacy" as practiced by Democratic officials had kept American business men from learning of trade opportunities abroad the Republican nominee declared the state and commerce departments must be reorganized to give more active aid in developing commerce with other nations.

The president's Mexican policy he denounced as having brought distrust in Mexico and humiliation at home, and he advocated a program of amicable relations to insure protection of American interests on Mexican soil without interfering unduly in the internal affairs of the Mexican republic. In his discussion of the league he reiterated that he wanted no council of foreign powers to dictate America's part in the world and reading Article 10 told his audiences that as spokesman far the Republican party he was opposed to it.

Can Organize For Peace.

He added that in due time the nation would find a way safely and practically to organize the concience of the world for peace. The senator's arariginment of the Democartic attitude toward foreign trade was the theme of a night address in the Louisville armory.

Stigmatizing the state department as representing the lowest possible ebb of government service, in building foreign commerce, the candidate declared in his scpeech here tonight that "a complete new policy was necessary if America was to take its place in international trade. The diplomatic service, he said, had been "demoralized" by the appointment of men, "some of whom had no other qualifications than that of being very large campaign contributors.

The first task of the nation in working for world peace, he said, was to set its face toward an international association "under which it may be free to express and maintain its own nationalism, but in which mutual commercial and trade problems may be worked out.

The candidate's Mexican policy first was outlined in several speeches during the day. He declared Democratic campaign speakers were saying Republican victory meant war with Mexico, but added that "this campaign scare will, not deceive America a second time."

The Heart of the Covenant

Refering to Governor Cox's suggestion that the voters be supplied with copies of the league convenant the senator showed to the crowd at Oneida, Tenn., a bulky print of the 80,000 word peace treaty and said that even a reading of the English text would be unsatisfactory because it differed from the French.

"I do not object to the printing of it," he said, "I wish it might in the hands of all Aemerians if they would only read it. But somehow I suspect you would be better satisfied if you had just one little section of it. I will read you article Ten, the heart of the convenant. And speaking for the Republican yarty, I am opposed to it for the United States of America."

At Danville, Ky., the Senator left the train and was taken to a football field where he made a speech from an improvised wooden stand. Members of the Center College football team, whose practice was interrupted by his arrival gave him three cheers and a tiger and then as the nominee began speaking another group of students took up the yell with Cox, substituted for Harding.

In all during the day the candidate made eleven speeeches, the cities visited besides Louisville were Spring City, Rockwood, Oakdale and Oneida, Tenn., and Stearns, Somerset, Danville, Harrodsburg, Lawrenceburg and Shelbyville, Ky.

"Our diplomatic service," said the senator in his speech here, "has a vital effect on the foreign trade. Wehave seen a complete failure of the administration either to gather or to give to our business men and our people any warning of the coming of the world war. This may have been due to the fact that the Democratic administration had demoralized the diplomatic service by removing from their posts in important places substantially every trained man and replacing them by untrained men.

The trial of Wanderer for the murder of his wife and a stranger is under way in Chicago. A few weeks ago just after the crime was committed, Wanderer made a confession in which he outlined all the gruesome, heartless details. Later on he repudiated his statements and so the long formality of a trial must be followed out. There must be something the matter with the legal system that makes a trial necessary when the guilt is so manifest.

An eastern banker who should know what he is talking about, declares there will be no panic in coming months or years and that an industrial collapse is not near at hand. The calamity howlers should read this banker's statement and consider the course of reasoning he suggests. Just about two weeks hence the election will be held and the choice of Republican nominees will serve as a stabilizing force to somewhat unsettled conditions resulting from sharp declines in prices and restricted credit.

WHERE JOHNSON STANDS

Those persons who have doubted the attitude of Senator Johnson and his willingness to support the Harding candidacy, should read about his speech at Cleveland. The California senator has definitely set at rest all the comment about his position in the present campaign.

There are many league opponents who originally felt that the senator's opposition to the league approached the radical, but more serious study has shown most of his arguments well founded. Eighteen months ago President Wilson tried to read out of the country any league opponent and Senator Johnson says now with some point that he is glad that a real understanding of the situation has come to the American people and that it is entirely respectable to talk Americanism and nationalism.

VOTE THE TICKET STRAIGHT

The is no doubt that this is a Republican year. Most Democrats concede that fact and in localities and states normally accounted Republican it seems to mainly a question of how large the majorities will be for national and state candiates.

But that fact should not result in over-confidence on the part of Republicans. They should not be satisfied with merely having their candidates secure a majority of the votes cast. The greater the majority the greater the victory.

Local Republicans can congratulate themselves that they have nominated men for office who are fully competent and who will be a credit to the party if elected. So the slogan of Morgan county Republicans in the election November 2 should be "Vote the straight Republican ticket." If this slogan is adhered to it will mean the election of the whole county ticket by handsome majorities, and the party has no candidate for whom apologies need be

THE MISAPPLIED EPITHETS OF GOVERNOR COX

(From The New York Herald.

Is James M. Cox of Ohio really friendly to Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, whom he hopes to succeed as President of the United States?

If he was, would he speak of the President as "stricken man in the White House?"

Has "a stricken man" been administering the government of this great country as its Chief Magistrate for more than a year past?

Was it "a striken man" who turned Robert Lansing neck and heels out of the State Department because the Secretary of State tried to prevent the public from thinking that the President might in fact be disabled from discharging the duties of his office?

Is it "a stricken man' who has been sending messages to Congress, making important nominations to office and issuing political statements to the public to induce them to support Governor Cox for President?

Such a suggestion, coming from such a source, is a remarkable incident even in Governor Cox's remarkable campaign.

Governor Cox has made another mistake of a kindred nature.

He calls Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, the son of President Theodore Roosevelt, "a misguided youth."

This epithet, if used at all, should be applied to quite a different Roosevelt, namely, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the Tammany candidate for Vice-President on the same ticket with Governor Cox. Indeed, the term "misguided youth" is capable of a wider application and includes any young man or woman who is unwise enough to think of supoting the Wilson ticket at the coming election.

BANK HOLIDAYS

Our bank is closed three days a week, in honor of some cheap event; "This is the day," the tellers shriek, "when o'er the ice Eliza went; and so we close our gorgeous doors and drop all useless toil, and play; and customers and kindred bores must come around some other day." I have nine dollars in its vaults, and if I wish to pay a bill, and to that granite building waltz, the doors are closed, already. I seek the cashier, vexed and cross, and ask him why the doors are shut; "This is the day when Charlie Ross was kidnapped by some locoted nut. And so all banks are closed, my man, for banks must celebrate such things; and if you do not like this plan, you're free to lump the same, by jings." Some days all business must be done 'neath handicaps that knock it flat; no man in town can get his mon—the banks are closed for this or that. We hear the onyx portals slam, the banker shoos us all away, for Mary had a little lamb, and all the banks observe the day. I'd like to draw a silver buck; the bank is closed, with all my pile, in honor of the man who struck one William Patterson, erstwhile.

Four Days—Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The one big bet of the season.

"Everywoman"
IS GREAT FILM SPECTACLE
The beauty picture supreme. A super-sensation of unlimited appeal. The greatest of all modern love stories.

Everywoman, before starting on her quest for Love surrounded by her companions, Beauty, Youth, Modesty and Conscience, Everywoman heeds the Whisperings of Passion who leads her to the orgy of pleasure staged by Wealth where she sees Passion consorting with Vice and learns that he is not Love. The pace set by Wealth causes Beauty to be stolen from Everywoman and with Youth she tries to win Love at the gaming tables but again fails. Finally deserted even by Youth, the last of her companions, she is found by Truth and Conscience and they succeed in bringing her to real Love.

High Lights in the Action of "Everywoman" are Superb

The stage scene which marks Everywoman's triumph in the leading role of a musical comedy. Full shots revealing the entire stage and the members of the audience interspersed with fascinating glimpses behind the scenes make the spectacle exceedingly interesting. The costumes worn by Miss Heming and the members of the chorus are breath-taking.

The banquet tendered to Everywoman by Wealth. The table is shaped in the form of a huge dollar sign and in its two centers is a dancing platform and a swimming tank. When the revelry of the diners has reached its height girls in striking bathing suits show themselves and disport in the water, the while Wealth throws them silver and gold pieces.

The gambling rooms where Everywoman goes in search of Love. Every variety of gaming table is shown, the players eagerly watching the results of wheel, cards and dice.

The riotous New Year's Eve celebration whither Everywoman goes, now deserted by Youth and Beauty, in an endeavor to win her way again to Wealth's good graces. She fails and Wealth goes his way on the primrose path with Vice as his companion. Again do gorgeous gowns make more extravagant the spectacle.

The fight by the waters of Oblivion beneath Wealth and Passion for the possession of Vice. In the mad scuffle both are precipitated into the waters and Vice goes on her way this time accompanied by dissipation.

Everywoman left alone in the world with Nobody her friend. Eventually, however, she is found by Truth and Conscience, who carry her home, where she finally meets true Love.

Boudoir talks with Sybel on how cocoa butter restores color to a sallow skin

I see many city women with a skin so sallow that it shows even under the rouge and powder. I always thought it was caused by lack of fresh, country air, but Sybel tells me that even in crowded cities a sallow skin can be made radiant with health.

"The beauty of a lovely woman, dear, lies chiefly in her coloring. When your skin becomes 'pasty' and 'putty-like' it is nature's cry for assistance. The pores are clogged with waste material that under normal conditions would be expelled. The pores must be cleansed and the skin nourished.

"Cocoa butter is a wonderful skin food and Coco-Bloom, my cocoa butter cream, is pure cocoa butter combined with other ingredients that correct skin troubles. Before applying the skin food you must open the pores. Do this by entirely covering the face with steaming hot towels, leaving just a wee opening over the nostrils for breathing. After doing this about two or three times you will be ready to cleanse and nourish the skin with Coco-Bloom.

"Rub the Coco-Bloom in until it is thoroughly absorbed, using a rotary motion. A few minutes brisk massage and your skin is in a velvet glow. Now use hot then cold towels followed by witch hazel, and you will find that in a short time your face will regain its natural bloom and your skin its normal healthy condition.

"Remember, Coco-Bloom is cocoa butter cream, and it supplies exactly what is needed to make your skin healthy."

Large Audience Heard Rev. W. H. Marbach Give Illustrated Travel Talk Thursday Night.

Rev. W. H. Marbach gave an interesting stereopticon lecture at the State Street Presbyterian church last night. The subject of the lecture was "Cairo." Mr. Marbach gave his audience a clear picture of the scenes and customs of Egypt, based upon his own travel experiences.

In his lecture Mr. Marbach gave an outline of the wonders of Egypt encountered on the voyage to Cairo, the Suez Canal, a large coaling and commercial station; Port Said, a small city, judged by our standards, but as Kipling has said "the most wicked city in the world;" the Nile River a sluggish stream from which it is possible to irrigate many acres of land by the most primitive methods.

He described Cairo as a city of contradictions, some of the streets being lighted with electricity and having street car lines along them, and other streets being narrow and crooked. In Cairo the cafe occupies an important place, the merchants and business men meeting there to smoke, drink coffee and transact business. Many beggers and peddlers infest the streets trying to obtain money from everyone. Much of the travelling in the city is done yet in carriages, the drivers urging their horses in furious haste thru the streets. A stale, indescribable odor is present at all places in the city, making the attractive looking fruit stands and the carts from which bread is sold, less inviting.

At a short distance from Cairo the pyramids stand. These pyramids are wonderful pieces of art, being so constructed and of such size as to make one wonder how the work was done without the use of modern machinery. The largest of these is the Pyramid of Cheops, it is 750 feet long on each side of the base and is 483 feet high. Midway to the top a tunnel runs to the center where a large chamber had been left, in which the bodies of the king and of the queen were placed after their deaths. It was not until about six hundred before Christ that the sarpho sarcophagus was looted and the great stores of jewels stolen. These pyramids were built about 4,500 years ago and Herodotus estimated that it took one hundred thousand men, working three months a year, twenty years to build the largest of these. The Sphinx stands at a short distance from the pyramids. It was built there to stand guard over the pyramids. It has the form of a lion and the face of a man.

Another interesting piece of sculpture mentioned by Mr. Marbach was the reclining statue of Rameses the Second. The speaker said that it is one of the strange facts of history, that this, oldest of the countries, is the most primitive of all.

SHERIFF SAW CRIMINALS HUNG

Morgan County Officer Present When Chicago Murderers Paid Penalty for Crimes.

Sheriff W. H. Weatherford returned last night from Chicago where he went by invitation of Sheriff Peters to witness a double hanging. The Morgan county sheriff was one of a small group of officials present when Henry Reese and Frank Campione paid the penalty for their crimes. Reese was a negro who in a fit of anger and jealousy literally hacked his wife to pieces with a hatchet. During his period in jail Reese "got religion" and Sheriff Weatherford said the man went to his death without flinching. At his own request he was permitted to say a few words and said that he regretted his crime, had been given a square deal and was "going to rest."

In strong contrast was the conduct of Campione, who cringed and struggled with his guard as he begged and pleaded for mercy. His limp form was held erect while the noose was fitted about him. Campione was one of the dreaded Cardinella gang and in a holdup murdered a man for $6.50.

MINISTERS HERE FOR ALL DAY MEET

Team of Congregational Pastors Visits Local Church—Questions of Vital Interest Discussed.

According to announcement the booster meeting was held at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon and evening and was a very pleasant and profitable occasion. There were present Rev. Messrs. H. J. Parrott, Springfield; S. A. Lloyd, Wilmette; Henry L. Meyer, Decatur, and J. C. Peters, Chandlerville. The object of these visits which have been enjoyed by a large number of churches of this denomination in this region is to arouse greater interest in the work and see what defects may be cured

A church is in great danger of getting into certain deep ruts and placidly remaining there from year to year, and these meetings are held with the object of infusing new life into the bodies visited. Mow many members have you? How many absentee members and do you keep in touch with them or recommend them to the pastor in the place to which they have gone? To that end a long list of questions is asked and the matter discussed by visitors, resident pastor and congregation.

After devotional exercises the work was begun with Mr Parrott leader and a very profitable time was enjoyed. The leading theme was "How may we better do the work in which we are engaged? To that end all sorts of questions were asked. Is your society regularly incorporated?. Matters of finance, membership, constitution, plant, Sunday school young people's meetings, missionary work, music, individual work, manner of looking after finances, auditing accounts, outline of new work for the year, value of plant, location, condition and many more similar questions were proposed.

To many the church was able to give a desirable answer and to some not so desirable. A fine spirit prevailed and all members present felt it was good to be there and hear for themselves what the visitors had to offer.

During the morning Mr. Collins, the worthy local pastor, took the guests about the city, which they much enjoyed. They were also loud in their praise of the new addition to the church and felt that it would be of great value to the work

The Evening Session.

The evening session was very much enjoyed by everyone present

Rev. H. L. Meyer presided and requested Mr. Parrot to lead the song service. Rev. Mr. Meyer remarked that in the Yale divinity school a very large percentage of the students were from the smaller churches, where the best work is done. He spoke in very complimentary terms of Jacksonville, the church and the work being done here. He then introduced Rev. S. A. Lloyd, pastor of Wilmette church, who gave a powerful discurse on the theme, "What is Our Vision?"

Mr. Lloyd said: "Years ago when I was a child I saw as a child, but as I grew older my vision grew and with it my ideas of what may be accomplished in the world. It is men of vision who do great things, and without it we accomplish nothing. What is your vision today? Do you mean to glide along the current without any aspirations or desires for greater things, simply drifting and landing nowhere? Or will you rouse up and with the apostle declare: 'This one thing I do' and go do it.

What One Man's Vision Meant.

"Years ago I traveled across the sandy plains of Arizona. The dust sifted thru the windows of the car and all was unpleasant. But one morning when I awoke all about was fresh and lovely. Green grass, trees and vegetation and flowers were everywhere to be seen. I learned that man had dammed a great river and had spread the pent up waters over the surface of the land, and where once was cactus and sagebrush, now the desert blossomed as the rose. This was because one man had a vision of what might be accomplished and had done it.

"Our children are put into our hands for care. God has given them to us. What shall we do with them? Shall we make them into noble men and women or not? How do you regard the little wriggling, mischievous children in Sunday school? As so many youngsters to be gotten rid of as soon as possible, or do you regard them as the coming men and women of the nation, moulded and educated and prepared for life if you do your work properly?

The Vision of the Church.

"I congratulate this church upon the vision it has had. This new addition you have erected shows that you expect to accomplish great things in the future. I congratulate you upon your minister—a great noble, earnest man who will lead you to greater things if you will stand behind him. Everything may not go according to your wishes, but stand by our minister, uphold his hands, go forward and work with him harmoniously and great things will be accomplished with the proper vision, with prayer, with perseverance and with brotherly love."

At the close of the sermon a business meeting of the church was held, and various matters pertaining to the work were discussed.

Deaths

Self.

The death of Miss Mamie Self came at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at a local hospital following an illness of a number of years. The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Spencer Self of 234 North Main street. She was born and reared in this city and had spent all of her life in Morgan county.

The deceased is survived by her parents and the following sisters and brother: Mrs. Fred Osterholt, Ashland; Mrs. Pearl Pickle, and Mrs. Helen Richardson, Indianapolis, Ind.; Marion Self, Decatur.

The deceased was a member of Salem M. E. church east of the city and always took an active interest in church affairs as long as her health permitted. During all the long years of suffering she ever manifested a cheerful and uncomplaining spirit. Her death means a great loss to the home circle and the members of the family have the deep sympathy of their friends in their bereavement.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Reynolds chapel on West State street, and interment will be in Diamond Grove cemtehy.

HIGH SCHOOL WORK IS PROGRESSING

Building Walls Are Rising and Soon Will Be Ready for Roof.

Construction has advanced to such an extent on the high school building that the observer can now gain some idea of the size and general appearance of the structure. The high school building with its equipment is going to represent an expenditure of about $500,000 and certainly a wonderful building is being erected.

The board of education has believed that the people of this city want the best in high school facilities and they have not stinted themselves in their plans. It will not be long until the walls are ready for the roof and the expectation is that the building will be covered by an early November date. This will make it possible for work to continue thru the winter months except in the most extreme weather. So there is every reason to believe that the high school will be ready for occupancy and use the opening of the next school year.

ATTENDED CONKLING FUNERAL IN SPRINGFIELD

Judge Owen P. Thompson returned last night from Springfield where he attended the funeral services of Clinton L. Conkling. The service was conducted by Rev. A. P. Higley of Cleveland, assisted by Rev. S. W. McFadden.

Because of Mr. Conkling's years of prominence in Illinois there was an unusually large attendance at the funeral. Mr. Conkling was an intimate friend of Abraham Lincoln. Judge Thompson is one of the committee of five named by the state bar association to attend the funeral.

Dance at Woodman hall Wednesday and Saturday nights. Everybody welcome.

TRIED TO ENTER OFFICE

A burglar tried to enter the office of P. H. Griggs last night. The thief evidently took hold of a shutter to raise himself to a window and the shutter pulled off the building, one of the window glass being broken. Evidently the noise caused the maurauder to leave as entrance was not gained.

CLYDE BLACK MARRIED IN WESTERN CITY

Miss Ethyl Hughes Weds Well Known Morgan County Young Man—Will Establish Farm Home.

The Hughes home had been handsomely decorated for this wedding event, ferns with yellow and white chrysanthemums having been used in a generous and artistic way.

Before the wedding ceremony Miss Anita Joley sang "At Dawning," and "I Love You," by Cadman. Then the wedding music from Lohengrin was heard. The bride was attended by Miss Lorna Marie Boyce as maid of honor and the groom's best man was Merrill L. Durlnd. The wedding party stood before a bank of flowers and foliage and there the impressive ring ceremony was performed. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. E. R. Hughes.

The bride's gown was of white bridal satin trimmed with silver lace. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and sweet peas. She wore a sweeping veil of bridal net, ornamented with orange blossoms. Miss Boyce wore a lavendar organdy over satin and carried a bouquet of white roses.

After congratulations had been extended by the large company of relatives and friends, a wedding breakfast was handsomely served. All of his life has been spent in this immediate locality and no young man has a better reputation.

Mr. Black has been for some time engaged with his father in the farming and dairy business and they will continue their joint operations.

The gifts received were of a kind to fully attest the good will and esteem of relatives and friends.

Among the guests present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Black and son Paul of Jacksonville; Judge and Mrs. L. B. EXCITEMENT BECAUSE OF SUPOSED CAR THEFT

White Hall, Oct. 13.—Excitement over the supposed theft of a Ford car from Bridgeport afforded some concern in the neighborhood of the residence of G. A. Raffety Wednesday morning. Dan Ozbun was delivering meat at the Raffety home, leaving the car along the curbing with the engine running. When he returned the car was gone, and promptly an alarm of auto theft was started by Mr. Ozbun. He followed certain tracks and found that the car had started forward on its own volition, easing its way thru a passage between a tree and telephone pole in front of the residence of Albert B. Smith on the opposite side of the street, becoming nicely settled in an out-of-the-way place where the owner could not observe it at an instant.

L. W. Tunison's version of the affair goes even further, he saying that the car went around one wagon in crossing the street to prevent an accident in its quest of a secluded spot where it could free itself for a time from the hard usage demanded by the driver. Mr. Ozbun drives the car for Simond's meat market.

The Battery That Meets Navy Requirements is—

WITH THE TRADE MARK Dreadnaught PLATES

Bound to Make Good on Your Car

FIVE navies use Gould Storage Batteries for the same enduring qualities of Dreadnaught Plates that give power and long life to the Gould Starting Battery.

Hard plates, that hold the active material firmly, outlast soft plates, but only in the Dreadnaught Plates is this rugged hardness combined with high power delivery.

This durability is the result of direct control of all the factors of manufacturing—even to the production of the vitally important lead-oxide. Such care is found only in the Gould plant.

Have your next battery a Gould—there's one for your car. Meantime, get the most out of your present battery by using our expert Gould Service regularly.

SIBERIA IS PLACE FOR JAPANESE

Official Says Nations Overflow Must Go to That Country—Hopes for Better Feeling Between Japan and U. S.

Tokio. — Alleging that under the names of "territorial greed" and "invasion' the Japanese people are prevented from seeking land beyond the seas "to live and have their being' the Nichi Nichi puts the question: "Where shall our countrymen go?" After remarking that the United States had protested against Japan's Siberian policy thereby causing undersirable complications between the two nations, the newspaper gives prominence to an interview with an anonymous high official who says that Japan's development in Siberia will be beneficial both to Japan and the United States, if the matter is considered rationally.

The unnamed official writes as follows: "The land where Japanense should emigrate is Siberia after all, in view of various dipiomatic circumstances. America refuses admission to Japanese immigrants and Australia shuts her door. The lands which Japan has newly acquired and for which we are given the trustship have not sufficient space to welcome immigrants.

"Our country is prosperous in the power of multiplying population and density of population is fast increasing here. The people are energetic and alert, full of ambition and power of activity. They know of no way of stretching out their powerful hands. Japan is destined to seek places abroad for their activity. Japan's perplexity because of her surplus population is not a problem for Japan alone. Neighboring nations should study calmly how this surplus population may be disposed of. Even if Japan had territory ambitions, what of that? Why should the present territorial limits of any country be considered as the proper limits?

"Territory is acquired accidentally. Because of such accient, a country enjoys limitless natural resources, while another has to suffer because of a surplus of population. When such a perplexed country seeks to change national boundary lines to relieve conditions which are not just to that country, such a policy should not be called irrational by any means. If water or air is compressed into a narrow space, it will burst out in an explosion. The same thing may be said about international relations. God blessed Japan with Siberia which fortunately lies beside her. But Japan has no territorial ambition there. She only wants to exploit the natural resources there under the law of equality of opportunity. To obstruct that policy is indeed a selfish thing to do.

Besides America has a vast territory of her own, a virgin soil. Almost no hand of development touched her Alaska. So Americans do not care to emigrate into Siberia. But for Japan, emigration is of vital necessity. It developed properly by Japanese, Siberia, where large scale agriculture is absolutely necessary, will secure agricultural implements from America to America's profit. There will be mutual benefits acruing from such a scheme. I hope that the American government and people will regard the question of Japan's pressure of pouulation upon the means of subsistence as a world issue.'

"FINEST ON THE MARKET TODAY" CLAIMS NURSE

Was Advised to Try Trutona—Now She Is Praising the Perfect Tonic.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14.—"It's the finest medicine on the market today!" That's what Mrs. Marie Woods, a practical nurse, recently stopping at the Collins hotel, in this city, remarked about Trutona, the Perfect Tonic, which is winning the grateful praise of thousands of people who are now using it Then Mrs. Woods continued and said:

"My health had been bad ever since I had the "flu." I was so nervous that I couldn't sleep at night and I would often lay awake until nearly morning I ate but little and even then, after meals I would usually suffer a bloated and swollen feeling which caused me to be short of breath. My kidneys didn't act right either, and I was forced to take laxatives all the time.

"I came to Springfield, upon the recommendation of my doctor, that I find a warmer climate, and it was here I was advised to try Trutona. I am so much better now, and I can conscientiously say that Trutona is the best tonic I know of. I'm not nearly so nervous and I sleep as soundly as a log now. And my appetite—well, I just can't get enough to eat. Trutona's regulated my bowels and banished the former tired, sluggish feeling. In fact, I feel like a different person today That's why I say Trutona's the finest medicine on the market."

Trutona's healthful action reaches every portion of the body, and performs its work faithfully and efficiently. Trutona rebuilds diseased nerves and tissues, creates a healthful appetite and assists in the assimilation and digestion of the food.

Trutona is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co. and J. F. Shreve and by Wyle Drug Co., Franklin and Waverly.

HEALTH CERTIFICATES IN BERLIN

Berlin.—Candidates for matrimony who apply for marriage licenses at the registrar's office now are handed a special bulletin of the Imperial Board of Health urging them to consult a physician and obtain a clean bill of health before marrying. The bulletin gives warning that a man or a woman who, despite the doctor's warning, enters wedlock commits a grave offense. The imperial code also provides for the annulment of the marriage if one of the cintracting parties knowingly conceals a condition of health which otherwise would prevent the union. The bulletin is the result of concerted action on the part of German physicians.

Only 4% is fit for Enterprise

This year's hard winter wheat crop is like stage scenery — not what it seems. The grain looks fine and there's lots of it, but it's weak.

Instead of being solid and full of gluten, it is puffed up with starch and water. Plenty of moisture and warm weather made it outgrow its strength.

In a few localities this was not the case. The soil was drier and the wheat developed more slowly into thinner, harder grain, full of gluten.

We have to have such grain or we can't mill Enterprise Flour. Its strength is necessary to produce the fine baking results that you expect of Enterprise.

There was only four per cent of strong, glutenous wheat in the whole crop and we had to pay the highest premium we have ever paid for every bushel we bought. But we have the satisfaction of knowing that at least you, who use Enterprise Flour, will not have trouble with your baking this year.

Enterprise costs more, as you'd expect—it's worth more. It will give you better, more uniform bakings and more of them per sack. The wisdom and economy of paying for quality in flour has never been so apparent as it will be this year.

NO MORE USE FOR CRUTCH AND CANE

Ladig Says He Is Entirely Free of Rheumatism Since Taking Tanlac—Gains 26 Pounds.

"Before I began taking Tanlac I had to walk with a crutch and cane, but I have now thrown them away, as I can get around as well as I ever could," said John J. Ladig, 422 LaSalle street, Fort Wayne, Ind.

"I had suffered a long time with rheumatism in my shoulders, back and one knee and was laid up in bed for five weeks on a stretch When I did get up I couldn't walk a step without a crutch and cane, but thanks to Tanlac, I have been entirely relieved of the rheumatism, and I have actually gained twenty-six pounds in weight besides.

"For several years before the rheumatism came on me I had suffered from stomach trouble. Eveyrthing I ate hurt me, gas would form on my stomach so bad that I couldn't lie down for more than a few minutes at a time at night and often just had to walk the floor nearly all night long. I had shooting pains around my heart just about all the time, and it palpitated something awful.

"I saw so many testinionials praising Tanlac I decided to try it. and I never felt better in my life than I do now My rheumatism is all gone and I never have an ache or pain of any kind. I can eat just anything I want and never have a particle of trouble afterward. STOCK EXCHANGE HAS ACTIVE FINISH

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Conflicting elements of domestic and foreign origin combined to bring about further irregularity of prices in stock exchange today, altho a firm to strong tone ruled at the active finish.

Redemption tomorrow of the Anglo-French $500,000,000 loan was again a factor of primary importance in the money market. Call loans established the highest initial sale of many weeks at 9 per cent closing at 10 per cent. British exchange eased slightly, rails, shippings and oils comprised the more uncertain features of the session, steels, equipments and motors representing the stronger issues. Net gains of 1 to 4 points were made by Bethlehem teel, Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker, Retail Stores, Mexican Petroleum and "Nickel Plate.'

The bond market was comparatively dull on reduced dealings. Domestic issues, including liberties were slightly easier and Internationals were irregular.

Total sales (par value) $14,375,000. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

GRAIN PRICES AVERAGED LOWER

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Grain prices averaged lower today, influenced by heavy selling of wheat and corn on the part of a leading eastern trader. Wheat closed nervous at 1½c to 2½c net decline, with December $2.07¾ to $2.08 and March $2.03½ to $2.03¾. Corn finished ⅜c off to 2½c up and oats down ½c to ⅝c@¾c. The outcome in provisions was a rise varying from 25c to 67c.

Acceptance of bearish views in regard to the government report about farm reserves had a depressing effect on wheat values at the outset, but indications that some export business was in progress led to a quick upturn. Then came a wave of selling orders from the wheat and thruout the remainder of the session the buying side was at a disadvantage. Receipts were small and reports on country offerings conflicting.

Corn and oats were governed mainly by the action of wheat. The chief exception was that October delivery of corn was bid up sharply, with little offered from rural holders.

Forecasts of a falling off November 1 in the total of warehouse stocks here gave a life to provisions.

WILL ERECT CLUB HOUSE AS MEMORIAL

Will Be Used in New York City By Living Officers—Names of 4,500 Officers Will Be Enrolled in Buildings.

NEW YORK, — The names of more than 4,500 commissioned officers who paid the supreme sacrifice in the World War will be enrolled in the national memorial club-house to be erected here for living officers. Of this number New York City will be represented by the names of at least 335 commissioned men.

The club of which Rear-Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, is president used the casualty report of the American Expeditionary Force as a nucleus for compliation of the list of officer dead but thru correspondence with governors, state adjutant generals, clubs, lodges, business concerns and next of kin the list of 3,500 officer dead as officially announced in Washington in December 1919 has been supplemented by approximately 1,000 names.

Believing that other names are missing and desiring to make the club list the most complete and authentic on record Rear-Admiral Fiske has requested relatives and friends of officers who died to communicate with him at headquarters of the memorial organization, 261 Madison avenue.

Civil and military records of each of the enrolled dead officers with their data, including copies of citations, general orders photographs and memorial books will be preserved in the archives of the new club-house.

The main feature of the building will be a memorial court or hall with bronze paneled walls where the names of the dead will be engraved. Records of those who won the Distinguished Service Medal for exceptional acts of bravery will be engraved directly under the names "in order that future generations may find inspiration in the valiant deeds of the past," it was announced.

While the building will stand as an enduring monument to the heroic dead the club has determined that the memorial can best serve the interests of the nation by its usefulness as a home for officers and as a "rallying center for all forms of patriotic activity." Consequently the building will provide comfortable quarters for officers who visit New York.

Four committees sponsoring the movement to build the memorial are headed by Major General Leonard Wood, Rear - Admiral William S. Sims, Henry P. Davison, former head of the American Red Cross and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, wife of Brigadier General Vanderbilt.

The design of the building will be selected from competitive drawings submitted by leading architects of the country. The committee on design includes Charles Dana Gibson, Edwin Howland Blashfield, Benjamin Morris and Henry Bacon, the latter being designer of the Lincoln Memorial at Washington, D. C.

R. R. SUPERINTENDENT FOILS TRAIN ROBBERY

Belfast, Ireland—Henry Forbes a railway traffic superintendent recently foiled an attempt to rob a mail train at Drumbar, a lonely halt on the Donegal Ballyshannon section of the line. Nine armed men sprang from concealment and held up the train crew. Some of them proceeded to ransack the mails, but Forbes left his compartment on the offside of the train and creeping along the footboard revolver in hand, surprised the men who were holding up the driver and fireman.

Forbes opened fire and the men bolted for the station waiting room from where they returned his shots. The other raiders made off across the cornfields pursued by Forbes who captured one man and eventually handed him over to the police.

BIRTH RECORD

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCurley, at Strawn's Crossing, on Oct. 9, a ten pound girl, Pauline May

FOUND OLD TRADITIONS.

Leyden, Holland — Pilgrims who came to Leyden to attenr the tercentenary celebration of the departure of the Pilgrim fathers for America found many conditions still exactly the same as at the time of the Pilgrims' residence. Charles Macfarland of New York, delivered a sermon from the same pulpit from which Robinson used to preach.

In the beautiful gothic church of St. Peters where Robinson is buried, everything is practically unaltered and the organ which cheered the Fathers many years ago was played for their descendants who attended the memorial service.

A wreath with ribbons and colors of three nations hung over Robinson's tombstone in the chapel which was originally the Baptistery church.
